Supported by

City University of Hong Kong

City University of Hong Kong (CityUHK) is a rapidly growing, government-funded institution with a burgeoning local and global reputation for professional education and research. CityUHK is strongly committed to creating an internationalised space for professional education, pursuing a research agenda designed to benefit society, establishing a culture of innovation and discovery, and nurturing the talents of our students. CityUHK's proactive involvement in collaborative global research projects, strong global standing and significant proportion of international students and faculty has been recognised which makes CityUHK as the Most International University in the World 2024 by Times Higher Education, alongside the double top 100 achievement in the world (70th in QS World University Rankings 2024 and 82th in THE World University Rankings 2024). CityUHK uniquely locates at the heart of Hong Kong. The campus is accessible by various means of public transportation with metro as one of the convenient ways to reach, it is just a 5-minute walk from the closest metro station via a 7-stories shopping mall.

CityUHK aims to pursue excellence, promote innovation and nurture creativity for Hong Kong, the region and the world by providing over 130 programmes, mainly with English as the medium of instruction and assessment to students through its 10 Colleges and Schools, as well as Gateway Education which rounds out the specialised training that students receive in their majors by enabling them to achieve breadth of knowledge through exposure to multiple disciplines. CityUHK has identified several niche areas in which a major role in producing graduates and research is played, including data science, energy and environment, creative media and veterinary medicine.

CityUHK launched "HK Tech 300" in March 2021, a large-scale flagship innovation and entrepreneurship programme for aspiring entrepreneurs in CityUHK's community to establish start-ups and ignite their entrepreneurship journey. With the University's allocation of HK$600 million, together with investment of HK$1.2 billion from co-investors, more than 660 start-up teams have each been awarded a seed fund of HK$100,000, and over 130 start-ups have been selected to receive angel fund investment of up to HK$1 million each to develop and validate their business models.

CityUHK's world-class labs and state-of-the-art teaching facilities enable our researchers and students to pursue excellence in their work and studies. For instance, the Veterinary Diagnostic Laboratory is one of the most comprehensive and advanced laboratories of its kind in Asia, and is an important training facility for our Bachelor of Veterinary Medicine programme.

CityUHK has established partnership with world renowned universities, such as Columbia University, and offers a variety of joint bachelor's degree programmes. The programmes provide students an international undergraduate educational experience. Upon successful enrolment, students will spend two years at CityUHK and two years at the partner university. On completion of the curriculum requirements, students will earn two bachelor's degrees - one from CityUHK, and the other one from the partner university. Besides, international students' academic and athletic achievements are highly recognised here, our merit-based Entrance Scholarship awards students up to US$25,600 per year while Outstanding Athletes Entrance Scholarship (OAES) for Non-Local Students can provide up to full tuition plus living subsidy.

Hong Kong Baptist University

Founded in 1956, Hong Kong Baptist University (HKBU) has remained committed to the pursuit of excellence in education, research and service to the community over the years. As one of Asia's finest institutions of higher learning, HKBU is dedicated to nurturing future generations of civically engaged community members, and it provides them with a broad-based, transdisciplinary and creative education.

Its eight faculties/schools offer a wide array of programmes across a diverse range of disciplines, from the arts, business, communication, and social sciences to science and technology, Chinese medicine and sport.

With its fundamental strengths in the arts and humanities, HKBU offers an education and research environment that fosters technological progress with a focus on the human dimensions. At the same time, the University is using technology to push the envelope of human imagination in the arts and cultural sphere. Coupled with our unceasing efforts to achieve breakthroughs in science and Chinese medicine, HKBU strives to contribute to the building of a better world and a more compassionate society.

The Chinese University of Hong Kong

Founded in 1963, The Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK) is a forward-looking comprehensive research university with a global vision and a mission to combine tradition with modernity, and to bring together China and the West. With a student population exceeding 20,000, including more than 4,600 non-local students from over 70 countries, CUHK offers an exceptional educational environment. Our faculties of Arts, Business Administration, Education, Engineering, Law, Medicine, Science, and Social Science provide a diverse range of more than 70 undergraduate programmes.

As a top university in Hong Kong and Asia, CUHK aims to nurture students with both specialized knowledge and wisdom for life. The education experience here is distinguished by a flexible credit unit system, a college system, bilingualism, and multiculturalism. General education courses are offered to broaden students' perspectives and develop their ability to face the challenges of contemporary society. Besides, CUHK is the only university in Hong Kong that offers a college experience. College programmes and activities complement the formal curricula by delivering whole-person education and pastoral care.

CUHK has forged academic links with institutions of higher learning around the world and has student exchange agreements with over 280 universities in more than 30 destinations. The University also takes pride in pioneering the Global Internship Programme, which provides students with internship opportunities in both Mainland China and across the globe. Moreover, CUHK offers the academically accredited Co-operative Education Programme, "Co-op@CUHK," tailored to ambitious and driven students seeking to jumpstart their career exploration. Through valuable work experience alongside CUHK's bespoke courses, students have the opportunity to build up their soft skills, gain industry insights and develop professional networks while earning their degree.

The Education University of Hong Kong

The Hong Kong Polytechnic University

The Hong Kong Polytechnic University (PolyU), ranked 65th in the QS World University Rankings 2024 and 10th in Times Higher Education World's Most International Universities 2024, aspires to be an innovative, world-class university with a strong sense of social responsibility. Driven by its motto, "To learn and to apply, for the benefit of mankind", the University provides the best holistic education to nurture socially responsible "leaders of tomorrow" who possess a strong sense of national identity and a global perspective, and pursues impactful innovation and interdisciplinary research to address the world's most pressing challenges. The University's unwavering commitment to excellence has earned it international recognition, with four disciplines ranked among the world's top 25 in the QS World University Rankings by Subject 2023. It offers 67+ top-notch undergraduate programmes across nine faculties and schools, covering diverse disciplines such as business, construction and environment, design, engineering, health and social sciences, humanities, fashion and textiles, hotel and tourism, science and more.

PolyU prides itself on having a student-centred community and boasts a diverse student body comprised of over 29,400 students from more than 70 countries or regions. To recognise the significant achievements of international students, we provide generous support to them in academic and non-academic areas through a wide array of scholarship opportunities, up to four years of tuition fees and living allowances. In addition, we offer favourable consideration to outstanding students for admission to PolyU via the Special Talents Admission and Recognition Scheme (STARS), which recognises students with special talents in sports, arts and culture, leadership and community services, and STEM. Our aim is to help students succeed at PolyU and beyond, preparing them for bright futures.

At PolyU, we strive for a holistic learning experience through the Global Student Exchange Programme, Work-Integrated Education programme, Service-Learning, research and innovation opportunities, nurturing future professionals and leaders with a deep affection for their families, a global outlook, and a strong sense of social responsibility so that they can contribute to the long-term development of the world. We were the first local university to make social responsibility and civic engagement a core component of our undergraduate education. We offer over 70 Service-Learning subjects taught by more than 30 academic units, educating students about social issues and enabling them to apply their classroom knowledge in service to the communities in Hong Kong, Asia and beyond. Also, to enrich students' professional readiness to serve the world around them, PolyU became the first university in Hong Kong to offer a mandatory Work-Integrated Education programme for undergraduates. The Programme broadens students' practical experience and global perspective through internships across multiple industries in Hong Kong, Mainland China, Taiwan, and more than 30 countries or regions such as Germany, France, Australia, Italy, the UK, New Zealand and Singapore. In 2022, over 1,200 PolyU students applied for the offshore internship programmes.

For over eight decades, PolyU has nurtured more than 477,000 graduates worldwide. These graduates have flourished as distinguished leaders, high achievers, and more in various fields, including the public sector, healthcare, accounting, engineering, the arts, entrepreneurship, community leadership, and many more as role models to prospective students and support their personal and professional growth. With extensive alumni networks around the world, PolyU graduates have the global job market on their doorsteps among the wide-ranging job options, enabling a rewarding career and fruitful life as the leaders of tomorrow.
