Applications are invited for admission in September 2023 to a curriculum leading to the degree of Master of Science in Electronic Commerce and Internet Computing.

Information about the curriculum

Period of Study

The curriculum shall normally extend over one academic year of full-time study or two academic years of part-time study. Candidates shall not be permitted to extend their studies beyond the maximum period of registration of two academic years of full-time study or three academic years of part-time study, unless otherwise permitted or required by the Board of Faculty. For both full-time and part-time modes, the period of study shall include any assessment to be held during and/or at the end of each semester.

Mode of Enrolment

You must complete 72 credits of courses selected from the syllabus which must include capstone experience.

The curriculum tries to provide an integration of technology with businesses, and consists of a mixture of courses from electronic commerce (ECOM) and/or Internet computing (ICOM) subject area(s) and some selected COMP and/or FITE courses. Students are encouraged to take courses in any areas, provided that they have the necessary pre-requisite knowledge for the particular course.

To allow even more choices, students may also in exceptional circumstances select at most 2 Taught Postgraduate level courses offered by other curricula in the Faculty of Engineering as electives to meet their professional needs.

Regulations and Syllabuses

Regulations and syllabuses of the MSc(ECom&IComp) curriculum are available from the programme website at https://www.ecom-icom.hku.hk or https://hku.hk/tpg/.

Composition Fee

The composition fee for each 6 credit-units is HK$18,000 for the intake in the academic year 2023-2024, subject to the University’s approval.

The composition fee for the dissertation / project, shall be payable in two instalments, unless otherwise stated, with each instalment paid in each semester.

Some of the courses have been approved by the HKSAR government as reimbursable courses under the Continuing Education Fund (CEF) scheme for Hong Kong residents. For further details on this, please visit our HKU MSc(ECom&IComp) website <https://www.ecom-icom.hku.hk> or the CEF website <https://www.wfsfaa.gov.hk/cef/>.

Fees for enrolled courses are paid on a semester basis. The first instalment of composition fees of 12 credit-units is payable at the time of acceptance of an offer of admission.

The caution money is HK$350. It is payable at the time of acceptance of an offer of admission.
